2018-2019 SPECIAL SESSIONS

FORECASTING
JAN. 24-25, 2019

Accurate revenue forecasting is the foundation of sound budgeting. This challenging task is an essential tool in governmental planning, and it leads to the smooth operation of any governmental organization. CPE credits: 16

• Instructor: Laura Wheeler, senior research associate, Center for State and Local Finance
• Program Fee: $350
• Deadline to register is Jan. 9, 2019.

COST ANALYSIS
APRIL 16-17, 2019

Cost analysis is a fundamental tool used in financial management to quantify program costs and adapt budgets to a changing fiscal environment. This class introduces participants to the concepts, data, and skills needed to perform cost analysis. CPE credits: 16

• Past Instructor: Cynthia Searcy, assistant dean, Andrew Young School of Policy Studies
• Program Fee: $350
• Deadline to register is April 2, 2019.

Learn more and register on our website:
cslf.gsu.edu/training
Contact Us

For questions on this or other courses, contact Ronald Shelby, assistant director of executive education at rshelby3@gsu.edu or 404-413-0327.